The management of Music Hall, at Orange present unusually fine attractions for several nights in the next two weeks. This Saturday night Miss Rosina Vokes, with her renowned London company will be seen in three plays. On Tuesday night of next week, Robert Mantell will produce here the standard melodrama of "Monbars." The N. Y. Times said of his performance at the Fifth Avenue Theatre : "Mr. Mantell's handsome figure and strong, pleasant voice are both exhibited to good advantage. In the scenes in which he has to depict suppressed emotion, and in all tender passages, he seems to exert an irresis:ible spell upon his audience. Next week Saturday night, Dockstader's celebrated Minstrels are to appear.
